Part IV. Narrative Description of Your Activities

Before we incorporated our organization, we have individually provided humanitarian support and assistance to victims from social, political and religious injustice of China. For example, Fengsuo Zhou in Contra Costa, California sent $1500 to Yan Yan in Beijing, China in January 2007 (see the receipt copy). Yan Yan is a victim for more than 17 years without a normal life since he participated to China's democratic movement in 1989, and he was in the late stage of cancer and died soon after. Jing Zhao in Santa Clara and Contra Costa of California helped political prisoner Zili Yang’s wife to settle down after she fled from China in 2006. Yang was sentenced 8 years in 2001 for his Internet articles criticizing the Chinese government (see http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Yang_Zili). Since China will remain an undemocratic country under the Chinese Communist Party's dictatorship for a period, there are many victims like Yan or Yang and their families without adequate relief or help from China, and there are some people in the U.S. willing to extend their support. We also participated with other NPOs to sign Christmas cards to Chinese prisoners every year in December.

After we incorporated our organization, we take another case of education. Political prisoner Sen Wang was jailed ten years (2001-2011) in Sichuan. His wife does not have a normal job to raise their children. This year their daughter will enter college without fund. Ken Chan in Alameda, California is determined to support the daughter’s college education and sent $1280 for this year in June 2007. On June 12th, 2007, we delivered a statement from the jailed journalist Shi Tao’s mother to Yahoo's shareholders at the annual meeting. With Carter Center and other humanitarian NPOs, we donated classic books on democracy to Beijing and Hunan’s institutes to promote public education on public elections in China.

We plan to conduct similar activities with more volunteers to help more people. We believe this is the best way to help China to develop a humanitarian society.

Conflict of Interest Policy of Humanitarian China

Article I
Purpose

The purpose of the conflict of interest policy is to protect this tax-exempt organization's (Organization) interest when it is contemplating entering into a transaction or arrangement that might benefit the private interest of an officer or director of the Organization or might result in a possible excess benefit transaction. This policy is intended to supplement but not replace any applicable state and federal laws governing conflict of interest applicable to nonprofit and charitable organizations.

Article II
Definitions

1. Interested Person Any director, principal officer, or member of a committee with governing board delegated powers, who has a direct or indirect financial interest, as defined below, in an interested person.

2. Financial Interest
A person has a financial interest if the person has, directly or indirectly, through business, investment, or family:
   a. An ownership or investment interest in any entity with which the Organization has a transaction or arrangement.
   b. A compensation arrangement with the Organization or with any entity or individual with which the Organization has a transaction or arrangement.
   c. A potential ownership or investment interest in, or compensation arrangement with, any entity or individual with which the Organization is negotiating a transaction or arrangement.

Compensation includes direct and indirect remuneration as well as gifts or favors that are not insubstantial.

A financial interest is not necessarily a conflict of interest. Under Article III, Section 2, a person who has a financial interest may have a conflict of interest only if the appropriate governing board or committee decides that a conflict of interest exists.

Article III
Procedures

1. Duty to Disclose
In connection with any actual or possible conflict of interest, an interested person must disclose the existence of the financial interest and be given the opportunity to disclose all material facts to the directors and members of committees with governing board delegated powers considering the proposed transaction or arrangement.

2. Determining Whether a Conflict of Interest Exists
After disclosure of the financial interest and all material facts, and after any discussion with the interested person, he/she shall leave the governing board or committee meeting while the determination of a conflict of interest is discussed and voted upon. The remaining board or committee members shall decide if a conflict of interest exists.

3. Procedures for Addressing the Conflict of Interest
   a. An interested person may make a presentation at the governing board or committee meeting, but after the presentation, he/she shall leave the meeting during the discussion of, and the vote on, the transaction or arrangement involving the possible conflict of interest.
   b. The chairperson of the governing board or committee shall, if appropriate, appoint a disinterested person or committee to investigate alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement.
   c. After exercising due diligence, the governing board or committee shall determine whether the Organization can obtain with reasonable efforts a more advantageous transaction or arrangement from a person or entity that would not give rise to a conflict of interest.
   d. If a more advantageous transaction or arrangement is not reasonably possible under circumstances not producing a conflict of interest, the governing board or committee shall determine by a majority vote of the disinterested directors whether the transaction or arrangement is in the Organization's best interest for its own benefit, and whether it is fair and reasonable. In conformity with the above determination, it shall make its decision as to whether to enter into the transaction or arrangement.
4. Violations of the Conflicts of Interest Policy
   a. If the governing board or committee has reasonable cause to believe a member has failed to disclose actual or possible conflicts of interest, it shall inform the member of the basis for such belief and afford the member an opportunity to explain the alleged failure to disclose.
   b. If, after hearing the member’s response and after making further investigation as warranted by the circumstances, the governing board or committee determines the member has failed to disclose an actual or possible conflict of interest, it shall take appropriate disciplinary and corrective action.

Article IV
Records of Proceedings

The minutes of the governing board and all committees with board delegated powers shall contain:
   a. The names of the persons who disclosed or otherwise were found to have a financial interest in connection with an actual or possible conflict of interest, the nature of the financial interest, any action taken to determine whether a conflict of interest was present, and the governing board’s or committee’s decision as to whether a conflict of interest in fact existed.
   b. The names of the persons who were present for discussions and votes relating to the transaction or arrangement, the content of the discussion, including any alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement, and a record of any votes taken in connection with the proceedings.

We plan provide professional services to help informal networks/organizations in China to establish formal NPOs/NGOs according to American experience in China to develop a civil society with a system under rule of the law. For example, the famous Tianwang website/network in Chengdu http://64tianwang.com and Minsheng Guangcha website/network in Hubei http://www.msguancha.com have helped and are helping a lot of nameless poor Chinese people, and their leaders were jailed or are constantly under life threat. They could not register as a formal NGO in China. We have worked and will work closely with them, including services such as introducing and connecting their work to the American public, but not direct funding (grants, loans or other distributions).
